Comment:

One of the photographs in my wedding album was accidentally torn by my child.

I went to a photo shop, and asked if they would scan, repair, and reproduce the photo, but because it was taken by a professional photographer, who was out of business and long lost, they refused the job on copyright basis.

For heaven's sake: this is a photograph of me and my wife, and I can't have it legally repaired!!!! Wrong, wrong, wrong!
