

Holtje-Christian-20050308120003

To: Julie L. Sigall
Associate Register for Policy & International Affairs

Date: 03/08/2005

From: Christian Holtje

Comment:

I don't know what to say, other than I think that copyrights should expire after 5-10 years if they aren't explicitly registered or renewed with the Copyright Office.

Please, let orphaned stuff just go into the public domain. Not having access to the bulk of the material from my lifetime, the culture that defined me, is tragic.

Thank you for listening.