Comment:

I have had trouble finding the copyright holder for many of the contents of the multi-media collage work I do. I have been prevented from manifesting many of my ideas because of fears of legal repercussions from using obscure and all but forgotten items in my work.

Please do something to fix the copyright law. The law has become so far removed from the intentions of the founding fathers. We must once again use copyright law not only to protect the economic interest of existing copyright holders but also to foster creativity itself.

Thank you.
