

Kau-Arron-20050314120004

To: Julie L. Sigall
Associate Register for Policy & International Affairs

Date: 03/14/2005

From: Arron Kau

Comment:

As an educator (I teach high-school English and science), I greatly appreciate the value of public domain materials. While copyright is important, its purpose was ultimately supposed to be the public good. No one benefits when material is locked away and inaccessible. Please consider this important correction to current copyright laws and allow orphaned works to enter the public domain.