

Pittas-Peggy-20050316140003

To: Julie L. Sigall
Associate Register for Policy & International Affairs

Date: 03/16/2005

From: Peggy Pittas
Title: Series CO-Editor
Org: Lynchburg College

Comment:

Yes, I am in process of revising ten volumes of readings. We often run into the problem that the work is copyrighted by the estate of a the writer. I have twice given up using a work because the publisher no longer owns the copyright and the estate does not respond to the publisher or other inquiries.

Also, publishers are bought out by other publishers. Often I have difficulty locating who owns whom.